MUDA 50:50 site allotment scam

ED questioning intensifies

Four officers appear before ED sleuths; four more to be grilled tomorrow

Mysuru, Oct. 27 (RK&BCT)- The Enforcement Directorate (ED) has intensified its probe into the 50:50 ratio site allotment scam in the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA).

Four officers appeared for questioning yesterday, and four more are scheduled to appear tomorrow (Oct. 28) at the ED Office in Shanthinagar, Bengaluru, MUDA sources told Star of Mysore.

Assistant Director of ED, Murali Kannan, who is leading the investigation, issued summons for the officers to present documents, personal details and information on assets and properties.

The case centres on allegations that 14 premium compensatory sites in Vijayanagar Third and Fourth Stages were allotted to Chief Minister Siddaramaiah's wife, B.M. Parvathi, under the 50:50 scheme.

These high-value sites were given in exchange for 3.16 acres of land in Kesare village, acquired by MUDA without following proper land acquisition procedures.

The ED's investigation is based on the Enforcement Case Information Report (ECIR) filed under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA) against Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and others.

Credit card fraud

Rs. 10.66 lakh swindled from bank employee

Mysuru, Oct. 27 (SBD&KS)- Online fraudsters have defrauded a bank employee of Rs. 10.66 lakh under the guise of cancelling a new credit card process.

The victim, identified as Harish (name changed), a resident of Kalyangiri, Mysuru, lost Rs. 10,66,717 in a series of unauthorised transactions from his bank accounts.

The scam occurred on Thursday around 4.30 pm when Harish received a message regarding a new credit card. Shortly afterwards, he received a call from someone asking if he wanted a new card. Harish, who already had one, declined the offer. The caller then advised him to click on a link to cancel the credit card issuance process.

Believing the caller, Harish clicked on the link and was asked to enter his Aadhaar and bank account numbers. Harish, however, did not enter the details and exited the webpage.

Despite this, within two to three hours, Rs. 2.99 lakh was transferred from one of his bank accounts, followed by Rs. 7.63 lakh from another account. The next day, Rs. 74,714 was debited from his credit card. Harish has filed a complaint at the city's CEN Police Station, and an investigation is underway.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO BE A HUMAN BEING?: 'The greatness of humanity is not in being human, but in being humane.' — Mahatma Gandhi.

Today, when the world is dominated with thoughts of vengeance, revenge, rage, lust for power, information pouring from both known and unknown quarters spreading more hatred than good, humanity is dying. A famous Turkish proverb reads 'When a clown enters a palace, he doesn't become a king. The palace becomes a circus.'

Seldom these days do we look for guidance from erudite or cerebral believing that the times have changed. There is no end to dispute if both sides wish to succeed. The humans will lose humanity, a trademark that sets us apart from all creatures. 'When Humanity dies, we do not deserve to be called as humans.'

In olden days, kings often consulted the enlightened, rishis or scholars ahead of any major decision-making. There was a code of respect which ran through the enemy line as well. There were ethics and rules that one always adhered to. This passed from one generation to another.

This anecdote from Mahabharata speaks about forgiveness one of the greatest human value...

Ashwatthama, upon hearing about his father wounded by Bheema and lying at the gates of death, vowed to kill all Pandavas while they slept in tents. In a fit of rage, he slaughters all five sons of Draupadi mistakenly, thinking they were the five Pandavas. Arjuna, enraged at this stealthy act of Ashwatthama, captures him and brings him to Draupadi's feet to let her decide his fate. Inconsolable after losing all her five sons, Draupadi breaks down and asks... "Your father... the greatest teacher... who moulded my husbands, why did you kill my sons while they were asleep? What harm did they do to you?"

Watching Draupadi wail, the brewing anger within Arjuna couldn't hold any longer. He takes out his sword and holds it aloft to kill Ashwatthama. Draupadi stops Arjuna and continues... " Will killing Ashwatthama make any difference to my sons...? Why punish Ashwatthama's mother with the same sorrowful life as the one I suffer? She doesn't deserve this... There's no greater sorrow for a mother than to lose her son." Pardoning the executioner of her sons and sparing his life speaks volumes about her greatness.

Bhagavad Gita also quotes: If you want to see the brave look at those who can forgive, if you want to see the heroic, look at those who can love in return for the hatred.

Woman's rice-eating skills using chopsticks

Bangladesh: A woman from Bangladesh used chopsticks to lift one grain of rice at a time and managed to eat a record-breaking 37 pieces in one minute.

Sumaiya Khan, 24, told Guinness World Records she has been using chopsticks to eat all of her meals for a few years.

"I had a thing for ramen back in the day, I was obsessed with ramen and loved Korean culture so that's when I got my own personal chopsticks and since then I've eaten almost all of my food using them, and especially since I'm Bangladeshi I eat rice almost every single day," Khan said.

A coworker took note of Khan's rice-eating skills and suggested she might be able to break the record for the most rice grains eaten in one minute using chopsticks, which previously stood at 27.

Bat escapes Zoo by hiding in visitor's jacket

Germany: A bat escaped from a Zoo in Germany by landing on a visiting woman and hiding in her clothes until she got home.

Elina Öfele, 30, said she and her young son walked through the bat cave at Karlsruhe Zoo in southwestern Germany last week, and when she got home she removed her jacket and a bat fell to the floor.

Öfele contacted an animal expert and put the bat in a box with honey water and a banana overnight to keep it fed and comfortable.

Her husband and son returned the bat to the Zoo the following day.

A spokesman for the Zoo said the leaf-nosed bat was returned to its habitat and is doing fine. He said it was the first time a bat had ever escaped from the Zoo by stowing away with a visitor.

Mysuru's NSS volunteer drowns in Pandavapura lake

Pandavapura, Oct. 27 (KS)- A NSS volunteer from Mysuru taluk, who was attending a camp met his tragic end, when he went for a bath in a lake. The incident took place on the outskirts of Chandre village in the taluk yesterday afternoon.

Gajendra

The deceased has been identified as Gajendra (17), son of Channaraya of Nagawala village, Yelwal Hobli in Mysuru taluk.

Gajendra was pursuing his second year PUC (Commerce) at Vijaya College in the town and was accommodated at the RSS Office. A NSS Camp was organised at Chandre village by the College's NSS unit from Oct. 25 in which Gajendra was taking part.

On Saturday morning, Gajendra did Shramdan till afternoon. Gajendra, who was going towards the lake along with his friends for bath, dashed towards the lake to take a bath first and jumped into the water without knowing its depth.

The relatives of deceased Gajendra arguing with officials.

As Gajendra did not surface after diving into the lake, his friends jumped into the lake in a bid to trace him. As the lake was deep, they returned to shore, in vain. Even NSS Officer Chaluvegowda, rushed to the lake and made attempts to trace Gajendra, but to no avail, as he had drowned by that time.

Acting on information from the villagers, the Police rushed to the lake, and summoned Fire and Emergency Services personnel, who after 30 minutes search operation, finally fished out the body of Gajendra. The body was later shifted to the General Hospital mortuary for post-mortem.

Relatives vent anger

Family members and relatives of Gajendra, who rushed to Pandavapura General Hospital, expressed anger on the College's Administrative Board, NSS Officer and lecturers. The relatives also took the DDPI to task who arrived at the mortuary.

They alleged that even after three hours of shifting Gajendra's body to the Hospital, none from the College's Administrative Board, NSS Officer or lecturers came to the Hospital, thus displaying their negligent attitude. They also said that though the incident took place in the afternoon, they had not informed the parents and questioned why they shifted the body to the mortuary? They held the Administrative Board, NSS Officers and lecturers responsible for Gajendra's death.

Demand for Rs. 25 lakh compensation

The relatives of Gajendra demanded Rs. 25 lakh compensation from the College's Administrative Board to which College Director and farmer leader Sunitha Puttannaiah said that, the members of the Administrative Board had gone on a foreign tour and were not available to reach over the phone. She assured to discuss with them upon their arrival on providing compensation.

Demand for compensation

She assured of mobilising Rs. 1 lakh from the lecturers, Rs. 50,000 from the DDPI office and Rs. 1 lakh from the NSS Office, as ex-gratia to which the relatives of deceased Gajendra refused. They insisted on Rs. 25 lakh compensation and Rs. 5 lakh as ex-gratia and to clear the remaining compensation amount later.

However, no Police complaint had been lodged in this regard till yesterday night.

Two-day All India United Trade Union Centre (AIUTUC) State convention begins

Mysuru, Oct. 27 (MTY&DM)- The two-day 4th state-level convention of All India United Trade Union Centre (AIUTUC), began at Town Hall in the heart of the city yesterday.

Inaugurating the State Conference, AIUTUC President K. Radhakrishna pointed out the severity of the job crisis in the country. He said that permanent nature of jobs are disappearing, while most of the jobs are being outsourced to third party agencies. In the name of Fixed Term Employment (FTI) big private multinationals are forcing the desperate youths to work for a bare minimal salary which cannot suffice their livelihoods. This has been the result of the Liberalisation, Privatisation, Globalisation (LPG) policies introduced by the then Congress Government in the 1990s. On the other hand, the BJP not only took advantage and continued the LPG policies, but also made it worse for the youths by amending the labour laws and turning them into 4 labour codes.

"Scheme workers such as Anganwadi, ASHA and Mid-day meal workers are made to work for a meagre salary without any job security. The PM of the country, while showering praise on the labour force, is not willing to do anything to improve the livelihood of these workers.

AIUTUC State Secretary K. Somashekar addressing the 4th State-level convention at Town Hall premises in the city yesterday.

Today, the country is seeing a rise in billionaires and some think of it as a matter of pride. But the maximum population comprising of the youths are in dire straits and are looking to shift to other countries in search of jobs, to an extent where there are extreme situations of war. In spite of such a situation, ruling Governments instigate communal politics and are dividing the people by bringing caste, language and other issues to distract the people from real issues such as unemployment, price rise etc.", he argued.

Main speaker of the conference, Shankardas Gupta, All India General Secretary of AIUTUC, in his speech questioned that though it has been 75 years since independence, have the lives of students, youths, peasants and workers changed for good? "The gap between the rich and the poor is continuously widening and to curtail this, all the workers should get themselves organised and launch movements. Currently, the AIUTUC is the only platform which has been genuinely fighting for the worker's cause and issues. We are next going to organise a national level conference in the month of December in Odisha, to which representatives from more than 25 States will be arriving along with leaders of various trade unions", he noted.

City based Social Activist, Ugranarasimhegowda condemned how the Congress Government considered increasing the work hours to 12 hours per day which came as a proposal from the profit mongering corporates and expressed happiness over how the AIUTUC has been genuinely organising worker's movements with support from ASHA workers, workers of Asian Paints, KPTCL, Bannari Amman Sugars etc., especially in the city of Mysore.

AIUTUC State Secretary, K. Somashekar, said that the capitalist system has increased its oppression on the workers and are trying different alternatives to enforce more of such. But here in Mysuru, we are happy that workers are made aware of such tactics and various movements are being given shape regularly. He called upon all the workers to continue holding such uncompromising struggles.

State Secretary of the SUCI(C) K. Uma was present on the dais, while Prof. Channegowda, Honourable President of the Welcome Committee inaugurated the chart exhibition at the conference.

State Secretary of the AIUTUC, Tamil Nadu, Sivakumar also spoke on this occasion.

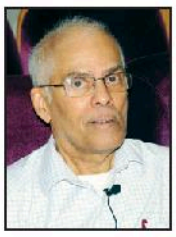
K. Somashekhar Yadagiri, Karnataka State President, presided the open-session of the conference. State secretariat member, Chandrashekar Meti, also spoke on the occasion.

Defying law, construction resumes at Jayanagar Park

Mysuru, Oct. 27 (PM, DM & BCT)- After a two-year pause, construction has resumed inside a small park on 2nd Main Road in Jayanagar, flagrantly violating the Karnataka Parks, Play-Field, and Open Spaces (Preservation and Regulation) Act, 1985.

In 2022, residents protested against the construction, forcing the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) to halt the project. Now, the civic authorities have restarted the work, sparking renewed frustration among residents.

Rakesh, a resident, stated that the park measures just 100x100 feet, with the construction taking up a 30x30-foot area — occupying nearly 30 percent of the park. According to the Karnataka Parks Act, no structures should be built in parks under 2.5 hectares; for larger parks, less than 5 percent may be used for a security dwelling or storage area only.



Bhamy V. Shenoy

Residents say the construction resembles a gazebo. "Why build a gazebo in such a small park? This area is a lung space. It seems MCC contractors and officials are simply trying to pocket commissions from this project," remarked Mysore Grahakara Parishat (MGP) Founder-President and environmental activist Bhamy V. Shenoy.

Disregard for rules

Expressing concerns over the project's legality, Shenoy highlighted that MCC had previously suspended the construction after MGP and local activists staged a protest, believing the project was abandoned. However, the sudden resumption signals what Shenoy describes as the MCC's disregard for regulations.

Shenoy mentioned that in prior discussions, MCC engineers and the Zonal Assistant Commissioner justified the construction, claiming it was requested by some residents. He criticised this as a sign of the officials' disregard for park preservation laws, stressing that building within the park harms its beauty and intended use.

MLA's intervention sought

Recalling MGP's past protests, such as against illegal construction at Cheluvamba Park in Vontikoppal, Shenoy lamented the need to continually fight against these violations. He urged Krishnaraja MLA T.S. Srivatsa to take action, urging an immediate halt to the construction at Jayanagar Park.

T.S. Srivatsa

According to the law, MCC is required to publish annual information on all parks, invite public objections to any listed information and demolish any illegal structures reported through these complaints.

"The Karnataka Parks, Play-Fields and Open Spaces Act mandates that local authorities must publicise details of these spaces annually in a gazette, making it accessible to the public. Unfortunately, this law remains only on paper," Shenoy noted.

Gita teaches about better lifestyle: Acharya Shri Eswaran

Two-day discourse to end with a talk on 'Yoga Shastra' at BVB, Mysuru Kendra today

Mysuru, Oct. 27 (PM&BS)- Founder-Acharya of Vedanta Institute, Bengaluru, Shri Eswaran said, 'Bhagavad Gita teaches us about better lifestyle and the meaning of a family.'

Acharya Shri Eswaran was delivering a discourse on Bhagavad Gita at Y.T. Thathachari auditorium of Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan (BVB), Mysuru Kendra in Vijayanagar first stage in city yesterday.

"Vedanta is a subject, which has a chapter in Gita. Vedanta is a Shastra containing three significant chapters — Upanishad, Brahma Sutra and Bhagavad Gita. We all are aware about how Gita was integral to Mahabharata. In reality, Lord Krishna in Gita, delivers a message on religion beginning from 11th verse in the second chapter. While there is no address of Krishna throughout the first chapter, which really surprises us. Gita, firstly tells us about our better conditions and the lifestyle associated with it," explained Acharya Shri Eswaran.

In present days, people tend to behave in such a manner that, they don't have time for inter-personal communication. It is alarming to note that, there is a rise in divorce cases too and such a situation shouldn't have been created at least in our country. It is a tragedy that, the educated and intelligent people have been the reason for such a worrying situation. Owing to inter-personal conflicts, the chinks are being felt in relationships, regretted Acharya Eswaran.

Most amongst us are aware of bonding, sadness, depression, raga (relationship), yearning and desire. The raga leads to suffering and the yearning ends up in desire and illusion. The one caught in illusion may lose his complete thinking ability, the situation presently experienced by many. Similar was the situation Arjuna was in (Mahabharatha), said Acharya Eswaran.

Gita teaches about religion essential to us and the particular knowledge is called as Bhrahma Vidya. We should have a correct understanding of the roles of- Karma, Bhakti and Jnana, the answer to which can be found in Gita, said Acharya Eswaran, who will be speaking on Yoga Shastra today evening at 6.45 pm at the same venue.

BVB Mysuru Kendra Vice-Chairman Prof. C. Naganna, Hon. Secretary P.S. Ganapathy, Treasurer Dr. A.T. Bhashyam and Member of the Managing Committee Dr. T.S. Gangadhar were present.

Ties with the Commissioner's Office

Sources indicate that the officials questioned yesterday, as well as those set for questioning tomorrow, have direct ties to the MUDA Commissioner's Office. Those questioned yesterday included Special Land Acquisition Officer Shruthi (also the Land Acquisition Section Manager), Personal Assistant to former MUDA Commissioner G.T. Dinesh Kumar, Stenographer Chandru and Special Tahsildar Rajashekar.

Tomorrow, Ravi, who oversees the MUDA record room, along with Executive Engineers R. Srinivas and Rajashekar, and one additional officer, have been summoned by the ED for questioning. These officers work closely with the Commissioner and are integral to the site allotment process, including preliminary file preparation, land inspections and finalising the sale deed.

During the recent raid on MUDA, ED officials collected statements from these officers and insisted on obtaining their phone numbers and Aadhaar cards, stressing the need for them to appear for further questioning if required.

Notices to former Commissioners

Sources reveal that the ED is preparing to issue notices to former MUDA Commissioners G.T. Dinesh Kumar and Dr. D.B. Natesh, under whose tenures the alleged land scam occurred.

The ED is currently uploading documents using specially designed software aimed at tracing the land dealings of MUDA officials and their relatives. As this process unfolds, officers are summoned individually for questioning to extract more information about the land transactions.

Following their questioning, officers are informed that they may be called back for further inquiries and must report to Bengaluru whenever required, sources added.

IAP National President Dr. G.V. Basavaraja, who was the chief guest, inaugurated the meet at Sri Rajendra Auditorium of JSS Medical College on Oct. 19.

Speaking on the occasion, Dr. Basavaraja called upon Paediatricians to address the rising mother-infant mortality rate, even in today's era of modern medical advancements and to work towards significantly reducing it.

"Despite the advances in modern medical science, the post-delivery mother-infant mortality rate has not decreased as expected. This challenge demands attention not only from doctors but also from the Government. Reducing this rate requires timely medical intervention and treatment," he said.

"A child's health must be safeguarded from the embryonic stage until adulthood. It's crucial that doctors focus on preventing deaths during child-birth and follow appropriate child care procedures," said Dr. Basavaraja.

"In the past, families had a Family Doctor who knew their medical history. That tradition has faded, but it is critical to revive such holistic care," added Dr. Basavaraja.

'Financial independence possible through solar energy'

Mysuru, Oct. 27 (MK&VNS)- "Solar energy not only helps in saving money but also helps achieve financial independence," said Kirloskar Solar Technologies, National Sales Manager Suresh Kumar Simpson.

Speaking after inaugurating Kirloskar Solar Mysore convention, organised at a private hotel in city yesterday, he called upon people to make use of Pradhan Mantri Surya Ghar Yojan.

"Installation of solar panel on the roof can yield profits. Currently, Rs. 10 is being charged for private consumption of every unit which costs Rs. 2,000 for 200 units. Installation of solar panels will not only reduce the expenditure but will also ensure that investment made on the panels is earned back.

Kirloskar Solar products distributor Srinivas, who spoke on the occasion, said that solar panels come with a guarantee of 25 years and it is possible to earn back the investment in two years by selling excess electricity to the Government. Using solar energy will also reduce pollution, he added.

The convention also collected opinions of the consumers of solar panels.

Electrical Contractor Ashok, Auditor Srinivas and hotelier Ashok and others were present.

Over a cup of evening Tea

By Dr. K. Javeed Nayeem, MD

A desperately gasping Bengaluru!

Day in and day out, for the past so many days, we have been reading reports and seeing videos about the misery that is being wreaked because of rain, on people who have chosen to live in our State capital.

As we flick through our news channels, we see people desperately bailing out muddy rainwater in one, while in another we see high-end cars almost completely submerged in their underground parking places, under high-end residential and commercial buildings. And, this is not just the result of any unusually heavy rains but something that we have been seeing there over the past few years, every time it rains normally too.

The very pertinent question that one may be inclined to ask here, at this juncture and which defies convincing answers is, how much rain is the city capable of handling comfortably? The honest answer, from what is being seen and experienced is that Bengaluru just cannot handle any rain, heavy or light. With the slightest drizzle, traffic comes to a complete stop at all underpasses, while with a little more rain, life itself comes to a complete standstill at almost all the not-so-elevated areas, where roads become completely water-logged and unmotorable, for hours.

If it rains a little heavier, as it happens quite often, the rainwater will flow over your doorstep and enter your home, uninvited, making a complete mess of your life. And, the quantum of the mess that it is capable of making, is what we are seeing every passing day.

But we cannot blame rain or rainwater at all, for this misery because it is not raining more in Bengaluru now than what it was raining there twenty-five years ago. It is just that Bengaluru today is not what it was twenty-five years ago, having outstripped every inch of living space and relentlessly continuing to encroach upon every inch of unlivable space too.

We have built and are continuing to build houses, apartments, shops, malls and office blocks, not just on safe and firm ground but also on swamps, bogs, lakebeds, sewers, drains and garbage dumps too. Yes, many of the places where tall and posh apartment blocks stand today in Bengaluru, have been just landfills, filled with the city's garbage, just a few years ago!

It is not just that their residents are living on giant heaps of garbage but they have also been using the groundwater drawn from these sites in their desperate bid for sustenance and survival. So, you can well imagine what quality of food and water they may be consuming, most helplessly, while putting up a brave pretence of living in style!

While talking of drawing groundwater to meet the continuously growing needs of a malignantly expanding city, the less said, the better. Let alone choices, today no one in Bengaluru has even the option of asking where the thousands of tankers that supply water to apartments, hotels, hospitals are procuring it from. Having sucked the ground completely dry from all over the city, with indiscriminately and illegally drilled borewells, these much sought after water-bearers have no other choice than to ply their now very lucrative trade by obtaining water from every possible source like tanks, ponds and even pools dug in swamps. This activity is plainly visible on the outskirts of the city, if only you have a seeing eye for such things. I happen to have one and so I see it all the time whenever I happen to visit Bengaluru.

In a desperately thirsty Bengaluru, you either have water of some kind, or you don't have water of any kind. That's all there's to it. Bengaluru, a once most livable city has now become completely unlivable and the days to come are only bound to be worse for residents there. There is a limit to the supportive infrastructure that can be provided to any larger-than-life city and Bengaluru is already one.

Blaming the government of being corrupt or the developers or builders of being greedy, for the present mess, is completely pointless, when we happen to be needy and are willing to pay the price for it, both in cash and the quality of our life too.

Yes, Bengaluru is desperately gasping for breath now and it is a mess, of our own making, with just no easy way out. But there are certainly many lessons we can learn from it, because every disaster, is a learning experience! Do think about it!

'Experience in theatre teaches more than Ph.D'

Mysuru, Oct. 27 (GA&VNS)- Experience gained in theatre teaches more than Ph.D which leads one to the path of righteousness and for actors it is important to be humble as arrogance will lead to their down fall, said senior theatre actor Julekha Begum, in city yesterday.

She was speaking at the monthly interaction programme Maatina Mane, organised by Rangayana at Bhoomigeetha. "An artiste must live the character on stage withstanding hunger and struggle. It is also important to note that artistes do not belong to any caste, creed or religion. They will have to face problems that come in their way and every house must have an artiste," said Julekha Begum remembering her struggling days when she faced difficulties to provide education to her children.

Speaking on the occasion, Rangayana Director Satish Tiptur said that arts, which are on the verge of extinction and stories that are stored in the minds of artistes should be a part of the syllabus.

"The interaction programme has been organised to identify and recognise the real stakeholders of art and to bring out various art forms that have been neglected over the past decades," he said.

Earlier, the programme was inaugurated by playwright Kotiganahalli Ramaiah. Writer Abdul Rashid coordinated the event. Department of Kannada and Culture Joint Director V.N. Mallikarjun and Rangayana Deputy Director M.D. Sudarshan were present.

Set up second international airport in South Bengaluru

MLAs from Old Mysuru region say airport in South Bengaluru will spur growth of Mysuru too

Mysuru, Oct. 27 (BLU&BS)- MLAs from the Old Mysuru region, including Mandya and Ramanagara, have urged the State Government to build a second international airport in the southern part of Bengaluru, widely known as the Silicon City of Karnataka.

The legislators submitted a memorandum to Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and Deputy Chief Minister D.K. Shivakumar, pressing them to recommend the Airports Authority of India (AAI) and the Union Ministry of Civil Aviation to consider this proposal.

In their representation, the MLAs argued that the existing Kempegowda International Airport in Devanahalli is overcrowded due to high passenger traffic and a dense flight schedule.

With half of the passengers originating from southern Bengaluru — covering areas like Electronics City, Bommanahalli, Bannerghatta Road, Jayanagar, J.P. Nagar, Mysuru Road and Magadi Road — the southern region is ideal for a new airport, which would also stimulate commercial growth.

They emphasised that the southern part of Bengaluru is best suited for the new airport, requiring a levelled stretch of land around 3.5 km for the runway.

Additionally, the Mysuru-Bengaluru Highway has boosted economic activities around Ramanagara, Channapatna and Maddur. With Mysuru emerging as Karnataka's second IT hub and remaining a top tourist destination, the combined growth of Bengaluru and Mysuru could mirror the commercial development seen between Mumbai and Pune, they argued.

The southern region of Bengaluru also benefits from an industrial corridor and reliable water supply, further strengthening its case for the second airport, they said.

Signatories of the memorandum include MLAs H.A. Iqbal Hussain (Ramanagara), H.C. Balakrishna (Maddur), P.M. Narendra Swamy (Malavalli), A.B. Ramesh Babu Bandisiddegowda (Srirangapatna), K.M. Uday (Maddur), P. Ravikumar (Mandya), along with MLCs S. Ravi, Dinesh Gooligowda, Puttanna, and defeated Congress candidate for Mandya Lok Sabha, Venkataramane Gowda (Star Chandru), among others.

Mediation necessary for unresolved disputes

Mysuru, Oct. 27 (RK&DM)- Principal District and Sessions Court Judge Ravindra Hegde observed that mediation is absolutely necessary for resolving unresolved disputes, which have remained pending in courts for long.

He was speaking after inaugurating the two-day training workshop for mediators from Mysuru and Chamarajanagar districts, organised by Karnataka State Legal Services Authority, in association with Karnataka Mediation Centre and District Legal Services Authority (DLSA), at the ZP hall here yesterday.

Pointing out that mediators have been playing a key role for long in resolving disputes and litigations, rendering justice to the warring parties, Judge Hegde said, however, this does not mean that the mediators resolve all types of cases.

Stressing that a positive mindset is key for the success of a mediator, he said that it is important that mediators have sufficient knowledge to resolve or settle cases amicably at Lok Adalats, which provide a platform for resolving disputes between differing parties.

Regretting that statistics has shown that cases are not resolved on expected lines, he said resolution of disputes within a time frame, will help the Courts in saving valuable time.

Principal Judge of Family Court Savithri Shivaputra Kujji too spoke and stressed on the skills of mediators in ending marital disharmony among couples, who have knocked on the doors of Courts

Mysuru Bar Association President Lokesh, S.R. Anuradha, Brinda Nandakumar and others were present.

WORD OF THE DAY

Baleful

Pronunciation: bale·ful ˈbāl-fəl (adjective)
Meaning: Deadly or pernicious in influence; foreboding or threatening evil
Origin: The bale of baleful comes from Old English bealu ("evil") and bane of the similar-looking baneful comaes from Old English bana ("slayer" or "murderer"). Baleful & baneful are alike in meaning as well as appearance, and they are sometimes used in quite similar contexts — but they usually differ in emphasis. Baleful typically describes what threatens or portends evil (e.g., "a baleful look," "baleful predictions"). Baneful applies typically to what causes evil or destruction (e.g., "a baneful secret," "the baneful bite of the serpent"). Both words are used to modify terms like influence, effect, and result, and in such uses there is little that distinguishes them.
Example: This lushly red oval is obvious even through small telescopes, looking like a baleful eye staring out from the enormous gas giant planet. —Phil Plait, Scientific American, 12 July 2024.

THE ODD WORD

Baccate

Having berries; berry-like.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Be as old as the hills

Meaning: The phrase 'Be as old as the hills' means that if something is as old as the hills, it has existed for a very long time.
Origin: The origin of the phrase 'As old as the hills' is biblical. The phrase is derived from Job, 15:7 and was first seen in the 1535 Miles Coverdale's Bible: "Art thou the first man, that euer was borne? Or wast thou made before the hylles?" The phrase did not gain popularity in its current form until 1734, when Francis Hutchinson's A Defense of the Ancient Historians read: "As vales are old as the hills, so loughs and rivers must be as old as they."
Example: "Difficult relationships between parents and children are nothing new: the problem's as old as the hills."
